MADAME BISHOP WILL SING ON MARCH 10

The announcement by W. D. Adams that Madame Geneva Johnstone Bishop is to sing in the Opera House on the night of Monday, March 10, comes as a rift in the clouds that overhang Honolulu today. There has been disappointment on the hands ever since the accident to Madame Bishop because it was thought she would be unable to sing, so that the announcement today is a most welcome one. Everyone who has ever followed the doings in the musical world in America and Europe knows just what Madame Bishop can do. The announcement has been made and the people of Honolulu will do the rest. If anxious inquiries as to the possibility of a concert by Madame Bishop are to be taken as a criterion by which to judge, the Opera House will be packed on the night of March 10.

Madame Bishop's program has already been arranged most carefully to suit the excellent taste of the people of Honolulu. Included in it are the "Waltz Song" of Arlitt and the scene and aria from "Faust" ("Jewel Song"). Madame Bishop will also sing a Hawaiian song written by Queen Liliuokalani and presented to her by the royal lady herself.

It is understood that the renowned oratorio singer will give one verse of "The Star Spangled Banner" at the end of the program. No woman in the United States has ever stirred the hearts of patriotic Americans to such a degree as Madame Bishop in her singing of this song so loved by all who claim the protection of the Stars and Stripes.

Madame Bishop will be assisted by Miss Carrie Castle, piano, and Prof. J. H. Amme, violin. Mrs. Whitney will be the accompanist. The seats will soon be on sale at the Wall, Nichols Company. Madame Bishop has been extremely considerate in the matter of prices, having fixed reserved seats at one dollar and the gallery seats at fifty cents. In placing the latter within the reach of all, the lady has had in mind the American soldiers now in the city.

TO GET A PATENT

Prof. W. E. Sharp, the musician, leaves for the States in the Ventura on his way to Washington to complete the patenting of an attachment for the piano and other musical instruments which will enable a performer to play in any key on the instruments without changing his fingering. The invention has been in progress of perfection for several years and since coming to Honolulu, Prof. Sharp has had more opportunity to work on it than he had on the mainland.

The invention is thought by several who have seen it to mean fame and fortune for the inventor of it, and within a short time a piano with the attachment will be on exhibition here. It may be attached to an old piano but in the work of building new pianos only the alteration of the regular plans will have to be made. The alteration is so slight and the advantage of the attachment so great that it is thought manufacturers of pianos all over the world will be glad to make arrangements for the use of the patent.

CUNNING THE HYPNOTIST.

The inclement weather kept a great many people from the Orpheum last night, but there was still a good attendance and the entire audience was very enthusiastic.

When Cunningham called for hypnotic subjects, many responded, but the hypnotist noticed a colored man occupying one of the back seats, who had proved a very good subject on previous occasions, did not come forward. Cunningham gave the man a special invitation which was not accepted, and, furthermore, proceeded to leave the theater, but was halted by the hypnotist, who asked him for a moment's talk, then made a motion toward his pocket and began to show him a number of shoe laces.

Although the laces were not there, the subject soon began to see them and finally when Cunningham transformed the laces into a rope and lassoed his subject, he found no difficulty in drawing him onto the stage by going through the motion of hauling on the supposed rope.

Tonight will be the last of Cunningham's season at the Orpheum, unless he accepts a guarantee from prominent Chinese to play an engagement at the Chinese theater, in which event he may give one or two other entertainments at the Orpheum.

SMALL-POX IN IOWA.

The Bulletin is permitted to quote from a private letter just received from Des Moines, the following:

"Smallpox? Say, we are right in it. The opera houses, churches and colleges are closed indefinitely; our police department is about doubled, and still the disease spreads. In two days 750 persons have been vaccinated by the city doctors. One doctor here is giving an internal remedy—same as vaccination in effect. He gets the germs into the circulation through the stomach. That method seems as satisfactory as the old; it makes some people beastly sick, though. I think the disease will be stamped out before next winter; it certainly will quiet down in hot weather."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night in the rooms of the association. Thirteen new members were admitted. The receipt of fifty old books for the Y. M. C. A. library from Mrs. N. E. Hendricks was acknowledged and also the receipt of various sums of money, some of them from quite unexpected sources. The bulk of the 2500 is as yet to be raised. It was decided that another meeting should be called at the end of the month to plan for the annual meeting.

Dr. Bogle, the chiropodist, had a most pleasant house warming at his new offices in the Oregon block last evening. Dr. Bogle has just moved from his former location in the Arlington Annex to larger and more commodious quarters in the Oregon block, on Hotel street next to the Elite building.

Last night a large algeroba tree on Magazine street was turned over by the wind. The tree which was torn up by the roots fell into the road, completely blocking it and carrying away the telephone wires as it fell.

The Y. M. C. A. offers the suggestion that people give the soldiers their San Francisco files when they have read them. If they are delivered at the Y. M. C. A. the association will see to it that they are forwarded to the soldiers.

Mrs. Berringer, mother of Fred W. Berringer, assistant appraiser of the Custom House, arrived in the Nippon Maru from San Francisco last night and will stay over in Honolulu to visit her son before proceeding on a trip to the Orient.

SONOMA DELAYED BY BRITISH MAIL

Leaving weather out of the question, the Sonoma will be at least twelve hours late in arriving from San Francisco. She was scheduled to sail for Honolulu at 10 a. m. of the 27th of February, Thursday, but the local agents, Wm. G. Irwin & Co., received word by the Nippon Maru that the British mail would not arrive in San Francisco from New York until late in the evening of the 27th. As the Sonoma waits for the mail, she will be late much later in getting away. She may be looked for, therefore, tomorrow night at the earliest.

The Ventura, from Sydney, was due this morning. She is likely to be held back by the strong northeast gale for many hours yet.

MACFARLANE OBSEQUIES

Colonel George W. Macfarlane telephoned from his mother's residence, Waikiki this afternoon that advice had been received of the arrival of his late brother Edward's remains at San Francisco. They will be brought to Honolulu in the next Alameda accompanied by the widow and Fred W. Macfarlane.

This morning all of the brothers of the deceased in town, together with Mrs. Geo. W. Macfarlane and Dr. Mays, broke the news to the mother. She was completely prostrated.

The deceased was born October 8, 1849, hence was in his 53d year at death.

Ah On to Kauai.

It has been decided by the police authorities to send Ah On, the Chinese detective, to Hanalei, Kauai, to make investigations in the matter of the death of the Chinaman whose body was found in the canefield near the plantation on Saturday last. Ah On is very clever in the matter of tracking Chinese criminals and is the very best man that the police authorities could possibly have picked out. He will stay on Kauai as long as he thinks necessary and will work in conjunction with the police there. It is the opinion of the police that crooked work has been done and not a stone will be left unturned in the investigation.

INDIVIDUALITY

There is individuality about eyeglasses the same as dress. Not every one can be fitted with the same clip and spring. Eyeglasses should be made to fit the face becomingly and a small featured person needs a smaller lens than one with a broad face. We fit each individual, and take all necessary care without piling the price up.
